Submission of

received on

Further Examination of the above-named patent application has led to the following outcome.

For preparing a response, a time period of three month(s)

is granted, starting from the serving of this notice.

Documents which may be enclosed with the Response (e.g. description, parts of the description, patent claims, drawings) are each required in duplicate, on separate sheets. Only one copy of the Response itself is needed.

If the description, the patent claims or the drawings are changed in the course of the proceedings, the applicant – providing the changes are not proposed by the German Patent and Trademark Office – must indicate in detail where in the original documents the inventive features described in the new documents are disclosed.

Note on the option of branching off a utility model

The applicant of a patent application filed with effect in the Federal Republic of Germany may file a utility model application relating to the same subject and simultaneously claim the priority of the earlier patent application. Such branching off (§5 of the Utility Models Act) is possible up to two months from the end of the month in which: the patent application is concluded by a legal rejection, voluntary retraction or fictive retraction; an opposition procedure is concluded; or – where the patent is granted – the time period for appealing against the decision to grant expires to no avail. Detailed information on the requirements for a utility model application, including branching off, is contained in "Merkblatt für Gebrauchsmusteranmelder (G 6181)" (Instructions for Utility Model Applicants), which is available from the Patent and Trademark Office and patent information centres free of charge.

In this Official Letter, the following citation is mentioned for the first time (the numbering of which will be maintained throughout the proceedings):

(3) EP 0 611 125 A1

The Official Letter is based on patent claim 1, newly filed in the submission of July 31, 2002.

With respect to the use of angular velocity sensors for correcting camera shaking, citation (3) is cited. Using the signal of an angular velocity sensor for correcting is known from column 1, line 32 to column 2, line 13 of this citation.

In view of the sum of the prior art known, the subject of claim 1 is based on an inventive step and claim 1 can form the basis for the grant of a patent.

The Applicant is asked to submit sub-claims adapted to the new patent claim 1 as well as adapted independent claim 13, and to take the demonstrated prior art (1) to (3) into account in an introduction to the introductory part of the description.

The grant of a patent cannot yet be decided on the strength of the documents currently on file.
